> WIFE MURDER AND ITS PUNISHMENT. (Pall Mall Garotto, Aug. 12th)

At the Guildford Assizes on Friday, one of hose cases came under the consideration of the udge and jury which never fril to excite the eepest commiseration and bring forth the warmest sympathics of which Englishmen are capable. A poor man, unmed Mahoney, one "tho working classes," was indicted for clonionaly killing his wife at Oumberwell. A more unjust asperison was never cast upon a descrying individual. The only evidence against Mr. Mahoney was that he was seen dragging his wife by the hair of her head and beating and knoes (a witness said), bleeding from the mouth and eyes, and frightfully swolled and and bruised, with two wounds on the left templer which were both bleeding. She was somewhat officiously helped by a neighbour, who certainly had no right to interfere, into her house, and there she vomited blood. We ber violently. She lay there three days very ill. hor loft overespecially in a shocking state. After lingering some little time she died of lock-iaw. and the poor fellow in the dock had notually been called away from his occupation on account of this trifling affair. Mr. Muhoney's extreme cardour of itself was irritability of temper be haddisplayed. Although his wife, evidently an artful woman, attempted his wife more than once (though with his open handl" and also having "put his foot to her [cheek" when he said "she screamed"-although she must have known that men detest noise. which sadly interferes with their employments. The jury, after much deliberation, found that Mr. Muhaney actually had killed his wife, but, of course, a nominal punishment met all the requirements of the caser and so the judge, after feelingly observing that the prisoner " bad not intended to kill her." that her death was in a wense the accidental result of the violence inflicted," that as, however such violence "was considerable and unprovoked, a sentence of some severity must he passed," let the poor fellow off with eight months' bard labour. Mr. Maboney will we hope, not think the law has been too serere upon him. We must take some notice of these wife smashings. We are obliged even to hang people sometimes, when they kill strangers or enemics, so that eight months is not much for a wife. It will soon pass away, even if Mr. Bruce does not remit the sentence altogether.

The Tir National, which was to have taken place this mouth at Nancy, is postponed til more penceful times, the fueurs who were to have taken part in it being engaged in the THE Spanish Steamship. A pleasant youth of thirteen summers shot a half-breed woman the other day in Barrycasa Valley, and it is said there was no provocation for the act. It does not seem probable, how ever, that one so young would have committed a morely wanton murder. He may have been tired of seeing ber about. The London Stereoscopic Company have brought out a striking and conveniently-sized little bust of Charles Dickens in parisas. The resemblance is exceedingly good, and the expression said to have been eaught by the modeller during some of Mr. Dickens's public readings, very thoughtful and intense. A DOUBLE RECEONING -- We have received information which will go far to justify, in one point, at least, the doubts of those who put small credit in Mr. Cardwell's paper efficiency. It is confidently asserted that Mr. Cardwell has overstated the number of breech-loading rifles in store by 100,000, in consequence of baving reckened the Tower twice over. POR scope and practical service this Work stands unrivalled. All the new words which the Obinese have of late years been dompelled to coin to express the numerous objects in machinery, photography, telegraphy, and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are here given in calense. Each and every word is fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Ponti pronunciations are given, the accenta being carefully marked on the best principle hitherto attained. The types graphy displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size of body, thereby effecting a rest economy of space, schieving a clearness not previously attained, and dispensing with those vast margins and vecant spaces which have heretofore characterized Chinese publications. The scope of the work is so great, and its utilitarian purposes so complete, that a reference to its pages enables a person who understands English to communicate effectively with natives who understand nothing but Chiness. In this respect the work will be found I views of Foochow, Hongkong, and dispensable to all Europeans residing in do.

Agents. China, and to the natives themselves it explains subjects fully, with which very few indeed of them are perfectly acquainted. To purples resident in England and interested in Chim it cannot but be invaluable occasionally. It comprises upwards of two thousand large quarto pugos.
